Essential Questions/Enduring Understandings

- What are the famous acting techniques and how can they be utilized for an effective character and performance?
- What methods are used to achieve the reality of character?
- How can an actor develop their own method of acting?
- How does the Stanislavski Method allow actors to develop characters?
- What are the ways actors can use natural impulses to inform choices during performance?
- Theatre artists use various techniques to embody different characters.
- Applying the 7 pillars of the Stanislavski Method to connect with a character.

Objectives

Students will know:

- the terminology and methodology of Stanislavski.
- how to listen and respond appropriately to a fellow actor during a performance.
- how to locate beat shifts and choose powerful objectives.

Students will be skilled at:

- choosing playable actions that increase conflict within the scene.
- collaborating with a scene partner to ensure both actors have a clear arc.
- critiquing the work of fellow actors by using "works/doesn't work" terminology.

Learning Plan

- Discuss physicality in acting and particularly onstage.
- Have students perform vignettes of people they observe in the world, focusing on precision and storytelling.
- Devise a Gala piece that focuses on pantomime and physical storytelling.
- Discuss and explore the Stanislavski Method.
- Demonstrate beat shifts and playable actions.
- Return to Stanislavski routinely throughout the course, holding students to higher standards in each unit.
- Read a script as a class and determine scenes to present, using the Stanislavski Method.

Assessments

- Students will demonstrate level of competency at physical theater through their observed people.
- Students will perform at Gala and be assessed on their precision and physicality.
- Students will practice finding beat shifts and will mark up all scenes they work on in class for assessment and feedback.
- Students will perform at both the Winter and Spring Showcases, being assessed on character arcs, clarity of beat shifts and actions, and characterization.

Materials

- Scripts: Romeo & Juliet; Macbeth; Hamlet; A Midsummer Night's Dream; Our Town; Vanya and

Sonia and Masha and Spike; The Dining Room; All My Sons; Stop Kiss; Picnic
