

Unit 1: The Elements of Art/Principles of Design

Content Area: Fine Arts
Course(s):
Time Period: Marking Period 1
Length: 16 days
Status: Published

Summary

This course provides instruction, which provides a basic foundation to all art courses offered at Cranford High School. Instruction and activity centers upon the study of basic art and design principles, the development of art skills and the encouragement of creative responses. The course recognizes the fact that students have varying art abilities, some less and some more than others. A student's interest in art is the most important consideration in electing this course.

In this unit, students will focus on developing knowledge, skills, and understandings related to the elements of art and the principles of design. They will learn key terms, and create designs in various media that demonstrate their ability to apply their knowledge, skill, and understanding of the elements of art and principles of design. In addition, they will recognize and be able to relate the elements of art and principles of design to an artist and his/ her artistic style.

Revision Date: July 2024 - Samantha Berk.

Essential Questions/Enduring Understandings

How do artists use the elements of art (EOAs) and principles of design (PODs)?

How do the EOAs and PODs interact to create a cohesive composition?

In what ways can the EOAs and PODs influence the perception and impact of an artwork?

How can EOAs and PODs be used to create emphasis and draw attention to focal points within a piece of art?

What role does EOAs and PODs play in ensuring that an artwork feels complete and aesthetically pleasing?

How do the EOAs and PODs contribute to the dynamism and flow of an artwork?

Artists and designers develop excellence through practice and constructive critique, reflecting on, revising and refining work over time.

What role does persistence play in revising, refining and developing work? How do artists grow and become accomplished in art forms? How does collaboratively reflecting on a work help us experience it more completely?

Artists and other presenters consider various techniques, methods, venues, and criteria when analyzing, selecting and curating objects, artifacts and artworks for preservation and presentation.

Artists, curators and others consider a variety of factors and methods including evolving technologies when preparing and refining artwork for display and or when deciding if and how to preserve and protect it.

What methods and processes are considered when preparing artwork for presentation or preservation? How does refining artwork affect its meaning to the viewer? What criteria are considered when selecting work for presentation, a portfolio, or a collection?

Objectives

Students will be able to identify and describe the seven elements of art (line, shape, form, space, color, value, texture) and the principles of design (balance, contrast, emphasis, movement, pattern, rhythm, and unity).

Students will demonstrate knowledge of how the elements of art and principles of design are used in various artworks.

Students will analyze and critique artworks by discussing how artists utilize the elements of art and principles of design to create meaning and aesthetic appeal.

Students will compare and contrast different artworks to understand the diverse application of these elements and principles across cultures and historical periods

Students will create original artworks that effectively incorporate the elements of art and principles of design.

Students will experiment with different materials and techniques to explore the effects of various elements (e.g., color, texture) on the overall composition.

Students will know the “3 Basic Features of an Art Work” and become skilled at explaining the subject, composition (elements and principles of design) and purpose of their art work.

Students will reflect on their creative process and outcomes, discussing how they applied the elements of art and principles of design in their work..

Students will set personal goals for improving their use of elements and principles in future art projects.

Learning Plan

Preview the essential questions and connect to learning throughout the unit.
