

Elementary Spanish (Grade 5)

Content Area: World Languages
Course(s):
Time Period: Trimester 1
Length: Full Year
Status: Published

Summary

The ability to communicate effectively in more than one language and the perspectives brought about by an understanding of other cultures are vital to the success of our students now and as they advance through the program/grade levels in preparation for a future in a variety of careers. When taking this course, students develop their understanding of the interrelationship between language and culture leading to a purposeful appreciation of cultural diversity. The goal of the elementary Spanish program in grades three, four and five is to support students in attaining the Novice Mid Performance Expectation in the three communicative modes by the end of grade 5. Standards addressed in this unit reflect Novice Low and/or Novice Mid Performance Expectations based on the individual proficiency levels of the students at specific points in the year.

Grade five students will demonstrate their understanding of the pronunciation of Spanish sounds through their sentence-level use of the target language when communicating with their teacher and classmates. They will continue to demonstrate their auditory development in responding appropriately to their teacher's target language usage in written and spoken word. Students will communicate in full sentences when reviewing past learning and sharing information about themselves and others when writing and speaking. Topics include activity verbs, adjectives to describe themselves and people around them, and review of the vocabulary and expressions from past units in further depth. Grade five students will be exposed to the grammatical structures and vocabulary-based topics that are presented in the novel (La familia de Federico Rico) during the second half of the year.

Revision Date: May 2020

Assessment

When taking a World Language, students demonstrate differentiated proficiency according to their ability to answer the essential questions through formative and summative assessments. Evidence of progression in the communicative modes (Interpretive, Presentational and Interpersonal) demonstrates the development of communicative proficiency over time. The performance tasks below are implemented as benchmark assessments and, based on individual student readiness and performance, can be implemented as formative and/or summative assessments. Student proficiency allows for additional or alternative assessment based on demonstration or absence of skill.

Engagement in interpersonal communication:

- Follow and respond appropriately to simple oral directions, commands and requests for participating in age-appropriate classroom activities.
- Imitate appropriate gestures and intonation of the target language during greetings and daily interactions.
- Exchange information using words, phrases, and short sentences practiced in class on familiar topics.
- Work in pairs and small groups using new and previously learned vocabulary.
- Participate in conversations about themselves and their preferences on a variety of topics including likes and dislikes, clothes, personal descriptions, activities, relationships and more.
- Act out different conversations in order to exchange information based on context clues.
- Create their own conversation skits to have classmates act out during class.
- Create their own songs, poems or raps to encourage vocabulary and grammar acquisition.

Suggested Activities:

- Students will answer questions - about a variety of topics- that the teacher or classmates present to the class, in the target language, while tossing a ball around the room.
- Students will work together to identify different vocabulary words and phrases during games, worksheets, and other short prompts.
- Students will interview each other on a variety of topics about their preferences in the target language.
- Students will participate in small group skits where they will listen and decipher information in the target language. They will actively participate in both speaking and listening during the activity.
- Students will write and practice their own skits in the target language using body part vocabulary and referencing the novel and will present it to the class.

Engagement in presentational communication:

- Recite simple rhymes, songs and skits using new and previously learned vocabulary.
- Copy/write words, phrases, or simple sentences on familiar topics.
- Name and label pictures of new and previously learned vocabulary.
- Create and present projects such as posters, slide presentations, songs and skits, in written and/or spoken form based on units of study, using appropriate Spanish vocabulary.
- Practice and perform Spanish songs, utilizing vocabulary from the units learned.
- Create and present their own songs, poems or raps to encourage vocabulary acquisition.
- Create and present a poster or online presentation about themselves in Spanish using simple sentences.

Suggested Activities:

- Students will create their own song to teach the class vocabulary using actions, dances, or translations of the vocabulary and present it to the class when completed.
- Students will create an All About Me presentation in which they will describe themselves and their preferences in the target language and present it to the class when completed.
- Students will present their own skits in the target language using body part vocabulary and referencing the novel and will present it to the class.
- Students will sing the Rockalingua song lyrics based on the unit of study to reinforce vocabulary.
- Students will present and practice vocabulary while playing games such as charades and pictionary in which they will be identifying the vocabulary based on what is seen.

Engagement in interpretative communication:

- Demonstrate comprehension of simple, oral directions, commands, and requests through appropriate physical and verbal responses.
- Recognize familiar people, places, and objects based on oral or simple written description.
- Listening to short stories and descriptions based on units of study.
- Respond to songs, videos and stories that incorporate vocabulary related to the units of study.

Suggested Activities:

- Students will read the novel with a partner using Volleyball Translation. Each student will take turns reading two lines in the target language, then their partner will translate what he or she has read and then continue reading in the target language.
- Human Scavenger Hunt: Students will find someone who enjoys doing the activity listed in the box. If the student does enjoy doing that activity, he or she will answer the question in Spanish and sign the box.
- Students will work together to answer questions about short stories that they have read or heard in the target language.
- Students will work together to identify vocabulary words and phrases in the target language during a variety of games, worksheets, and other short prompts.
