Evidence/Performance Tasks

Students demonstrate differentiated proficiency through both formative and summative assessments in the classroom. Based on individual student readiness and performance, assessments can be implemented as formative and/or summative.

Developmental progression across years in media is evidenced through benchmark assessments as part of the media specialist's Student Growth Objective (SGO). Follow up diagnostic assessments are used to target skill remediation. Student proficiency allows for additional or alternative assessment based on demonstration or absence of skill.

The performance tasks listed below are examples of the types of assessments teachers may use in the classroom and the data collected by the district to track student progress.

- Benchmark-Students will locate proper materials independently within a given time period.
- Formative-Demonstrate acceptable behavior for a library media center.
- Formative-Students will return materials on a regular basis.
- Formative-Students will self-assessment their performance.
- Summative-Role play skills taught in unit.

Learning Plan

Media Specialist may personalize instruction during this unit and address the distinct learning needs, interests, aspirations, or cultural backgrounds of individual students.

Media Specialists at the elementary level design their own unique lesson plans in order to incorporate the essential questions provided in this unit. The order in which this information is presented is dependent upon the variables specific to each elementary school community. For example, students may be called to the carpet for a lesson followed by guided practice, then independent practice. After the lesson, students will check out books. Library Media time ends with an electronic story so that the media specialist can assist and model proper checkout procedures with students.

Kindergarten students will be introduced to the library media center and its media specialist. Procedures and behavioral expectations of the kindergarten students when visiting the school library media center will be introduced, modeled, and practiced. Students will learn about the different sections of library books and how books are arranged. Students will learn how to use a shelf marker and the procedures for checking out a book from the library media center. Suggested activities are listed below for this unit:

- At the beginning of each year, provide an orientation to the library that includes procedures and behavior expectations .
- Communicate with parents using an orientation letter and if needed, overdue notices
- Introduce key vocabulary: library, library media center, media specialist, librarian, books, checkout, check in, returning books, renew, and shelf marker.
- Mini Lessons may include: Tour of library media center, How to use a shelf marker to choose a book, How to pick an age appropriate book and check it out, Expected behaviors within the library media center, Where fiction and nonfiction books are located in the library, and What is the difference between fiction and nonfiction books.
- Model library procedures including how to properly search for a book, how to check out a book, how to return a book .
- Preview the essential questions and connect to learning throughout the unit.
- Read relevant fiction and nonfiction books.
