

Unit 1: Pitch

Content Area: Music
Course(s):
Time Period: Marking Period 1
Length: 30/45 Days
Status: Published

Brief Summary of Unit- Revised June 2021

In this unit, intermediate musicians will continue to build upon the foundational musical knowledge and skills developed in their beginning band curriculum. Pitch is a fundamental element of music and a developing level of competency is necessary for students to succeed as independent instrumentalists. By providing instrumentalists with sequential, developmentally-appropriate pitch instruction, they will be able to create, perform, present, produce, respond, and connect with their ensemble members in a meaningful, musical way.

SEL Competency Connections for Intermediate Musicians

SEL Competency Connections for Intermediate Instrumental Music

Intermediate instrumental music instruction inherently fosters the growth of the five social and emotional learning (SEL) competencies (self-awareness, self-management, social awareness, relationship skills, and responsible decision making). Throughout the course of study, these SEL competencies are addressed in a tacit way; allowing for the organic development of individualized student growth. While the primary goal is to deliver beginning band instruction, clear connections to SEL enhance the overall outcomes of student learning.

Below, you will find a list of applicable competencies from the Arts Education and Social and Emotional Learning (SEL) Framework that complement the artistic processes found in the 2020 New Jersey Student Learning Standards for the Visual and Performing Arts.

Enduring Understandings

Enduring Understandings

Pitch is a fundamental element of music.

Ensemble music consists of multiple voices.

Different factors can impact overall sound production and intonation.

No one instrument part is bigger than the overall ensemble sound.

Tonal centers vary in musical literature.

Different modalities impact the overall performance of a piece.

Different key signatures require the knowledge of new notes.

Objectives

Students will know that:

Properly tuning their instrument contributes to the building of the “Band Pyramid” sound.

Band literature is written in different tonal centers.

Ensemble music consists of different instrumental roles.

Instrument lends itself to a characteristic role in ensemble music.

Different key signatures demand different technical facilities.

Objectives

Students will be skilled at:

Tuning their instrument appropriately with proper embouchure, good posture and breath support

Identifying sharp v. flat pitches aurally and visually.

Identifying the difference between melody and harmony and other supporting musical voices.

Identifying the difference in tonality between a major and minor key signature.

Performing and identifying music literature in the following key signatures: Concert Bb, Eb, F, Ab, Db Major; Concert G, D, C, F, Bb Minor (natural, harmonic, and melodic), Chromatic Scale.

Understanding how their specific sound lends itself to create the “Pyramid of Sound”

Recognizing the function of key signatures, accidentals, and enharmonics and how they affect pitch.

Understanding melodic contour in regards to a musical phrase.

Performing on their instrument with proper breath technique, body postures, and embouchure position.

Visually identifying the staff pitch names for their instrument as their range evolves.

Learning Plan

The teacher will develop strategies in daily learning plans to promote student independence and understanding through the following activities/concepts:

Sight reading

Part awareness in ensemble music

Tuning exercises

Use of tuner/tuning by ear “Passing the tonic”

Playing scales in rounds/chord progressions

Critical listening/Ensemble critique and assessment

Using solo and group performances to assess progress and growth

Evidence/ Performance Tasks

Fine and Performing Arts students demonstrate differentiated proficiency according to their ability to answer the essential questions through formative and summative assessments. Evidence of progression may be demonstrated in divergent ways through the artistic processes of creating, performing, presenting, producing, connecting, and responding.
