Brief Summary of Unit- Revised June 2021

Students will continue to expand their understanding of pitch as an essential musical element. Emphasis will continue on the development of proper vowel and consonant formation and their importance to the unification of sound and pitch within the ensemble. Additionally, the importance of maintaining good posture will continue to be reinforced so students continue to develop a clear resonant tone quality individually and as an ensemble. Ear training, Solfege, sight singing and dictation exercises will be continued to enhance tonal memory, pitch development and pitch accuracy. Students will be encouraged and given opportunities to develop smaller student directed ensembles to apply their knowledge and skills to new music.

Essential Questions

How can I use my changed/unchanged voice to my benefit?

How can I keep an accurate pitch when singing in harmony with others?

How do I distinguish between my chest voice and head voice?

How can I transition smoothly between the two?

How can I correct inaccurate pitches?

What vocal techniques can I apply to improve intonation?

How do musicians improve the quality of their performance?

When is a performance judged ready to present?

How do context and the manner in which musical work is presented influence audience response?

How does understanding the structure and context of music inform a response?

How do we discern the musical creators' and performers' expressive intent?

How do we judge the quality of musical work(s) and performance(s)?

How do musicians make meaningful connections to creating, performing, and responding?

Essential Understandings

There is a difference between chest voice and head voice.

That there are limits and contributions from both changed and unchanged voices.

Proper breathing, tone and vocal range can be improved through vocal exercises.

Ear training is an essential part of learning how to sing in tune.

Singing in harmony is a learned technique which requires listening and intonation skills.

Reading notation, practicing solfege and following melodic contour reinforces pitch accuracy.

The vocal cords (vocal folds) are muscles and require proper care (keep hydrated, rest the voice and avoid screaming/ yelling and tension).

Objectives

Students will be skilled at....

Reading pitch notation, treble and bass

Following choral music scores of known and unknown repertoire

Singing scale patterns

Singing in tune individually or within a group

Self-assessing for the accuracy of their own pitches and being able to identify the accuracy of others

Self-correcting intonation or wrong notes

Self-correcting blend when dynamics are not balanced within the ensemble

Writing melodic dictation

Sight singing melodic lines

Demonstrating knowledge of the Kodaly hand signs and using them to identify and perform scales or melodic patterns

Distinguishing between chest voice and head voice and transitioning successfully between the two registers

Sustaining their own voice part when performing two and three part harmony

Learning Plan

Placement of voice: head voice, chest voice, transition between the two

Verifying vocal range: soprano, alto, tenor, baritone, bass

Harmony: Provide literature voiced SA, SSA, SAB, SATB, TB, TTB (whichever applies)

Work to sustain vocal independence within choral ensemble

Solfege and Kodaly: review and reinforce through various exercises, scale patterns, application of melodic patterns in music examples, apply to sight reading, learning and applying pitch relationships, steps, skips and leaps

Sight reading in scale step starting on “do” extending to “sol”

Sight read from given “do” and start scale step exercise on “mi” and also on “sol”

Identify “sol-do” pattern

Introduce “do-mi-so” written patterns

Reinforce and teach pitch names in treble clef and apply to repertoire

Introduce Bass Clef

Critiquing and assessing of self and other: listening to recordings of youth choirs, recording of concerts, application of knowledge of vocal and ensemble techniques
