Brief Summary of Unit

In this unit, students will explore the moving parts of a live performance, including lights, sound, costumes, and set pieces.

Revision Date: June 2023

Essential Questions

- What are the key jobs occurring during a live performance?
- How do these roles interact to ensure a performance's success?
- What makes an effective board op, crew member, and/or wardrobe team?

Essential Understandings

- Live performances typically have a run crew, board ops for both the sound and light boards, and a wardrobe team
 - These roles interact through the Production Stage Manager and ASMs to ensure all elements are running smoothly and safely
- Effective crew members communicate, foresee issues, and solve problems as they arise

Students Will Know

- The different roles that exist in a backstage setting
- The chain of command backstage
- How to recognize and solve backstage problems

Students Will Be Skilled At

- Identify and explain different backstage roles
- Operate both the light and sound board
- Perform run crew tasks such as moving sets and opening curtains
- Communicate issues through a proper chain of command
- Run tech for a showcase

Learning Plan

- Discuss essential questions
- Discuss roles that exist backstage and what their responsibilities are
- Practice set changes including opening and closing the curtain quickly (curtain race)
- Demonstrate and explain the light board
- Have students label parts of the light board
- Present hypothetical scenarios regarding the light board and have students think through solving them
- Allow students to practice on light board, moving through cues and building basic looks
- Demonstrate and explain the sound board
- Have students label parts of the sound board
- Present hypothetical scenarios regarding the sound board and have students think through solving them
- Allow students to practice on sound board, setting up microphones and playing music
- Have students work one of the showcases

Materials

The materials used in this course allow for integration of a variety of instructional, supplemental, and intervention materials that support student learners at all levels in the school and home environments. Associated web content and media sources are infused into the unit as applicable and available

- Spike tape
- Set pieces
- Curtain
- Light board
- Sound board

Evidence/ Performance Tasks

Fine and Performing Arts students demonstrate differentiated proficiency according to their ability to answer the essential questions through formative and summative assessments. Evidence of progression may be demonstrated in divergent ways through the Artistic Processes of Creating, Performing/ Presenting/ Producing, Connecting, and Responding.

- Discussion of essential questions
- Observation of understanding through discussion and process
- Set change practice
- Curtain race
- Accuracy of light board labeling
- Accuracy of light board hypotheticals
- Assessment of ability to use the light board properly
- Accuracy of sound board labeling
- Accuracy of sound board hypotheticals
- Assessment of ability to use the sound board properly
- Assessment of student performance during a showcase
