

Unit 3: Storytelling

Content Area: Art
Course(s): Generic Course, Acting I
Time Period: Generic Time Period
Length: 4 Weeks
Status: Published

Unit Overview

In this unit, students will begin applying their acquired vocal and movement skills to performance while exploring basic storytelling skills. This unit will review the standard plot line elements and how to be an effective story teller. Students will begin to explore characters in this unit through a group performance where the focus is on plot. Individual storytelling skills will be applied with an independent scary story project. In addition, skills will be emphasized and enhanced through in class activities.

VPA.1.1.12.C.2	Formulate a process of script analysis to identify how the physical, emotional, and social dimensions of a character are communicated through the application of acting techniques.
VPA.1.3.12.C.1	Create plays that include well-structured plots and subplots, clear thematic intent, original characters, and technical theatrical elements appropriate to a variety of theatrical genres.
VPA.1.3.12.C.2	Create and evaluate performances by citing evidence of specific physical choices, sustained vocal technique, and clearly motivated actions.
VPA.1.3.12.C.CS1	Effective scripted and improvisational performances require informed, supported, and sustained choices by actors, directors, and designers. Theatre genres are created by combining complex narrative structures, technical theatrical elements, and thematic intent.
VPA.1.3.12.C.CS2	Presentation of believable, multidimensional characters in scripted and improvised performances requires application of specific physical choices, sustained vocal technique, and clearly motivated actions.
