Instructional Tasks/Activities

- Artist will be introduced to the critical analysis rubric used for film voting in the department. They will be shown examples of what gets a good score, and what gets a low score. They will be given specific points of emphasis and what to look for in each category. They will then work in a Q&A roundtable discussion in order to reformat the rubric to better suit our needs in the new year.
- Artists will be given a lesson through direct instruction on the steps needed to label their film, and prepare it for export. The instructor will model the steps and guide the students towards their final export.
- Artists will critique film submissions from both foundations classes. They will turn in their voting rubrics for a grade.
- Artists will export their films, and store them in the appropriately designated folder for upcoming film critique.
- Artists will gather in a Q&A roundtable once more to discuss the showcase filming protocol and decide if anything needs changing mid-year.
- Artists will organize all clips for the year so far and categorize them into the highest scoring via the new rubric so we can enter them in festivals.
- Artists will prep for retest of Adobe or Avid Exams if necessary.
- Artists will re-learn about different file types, and how they are best used on different platforms (web, broadcast TV, social media)
