Perspective Summary

Unit 2, Perspective, challenges artists to create work using technical drawing skills. Artists will learn one and two-point perspective and their practical applications. Artists will conjure and combine interdisciplinary skills in measuring and simple math in order to complete these projects. This unit will also consider space and its two very different appearances in art: positive/negative and foreground/middle ground/background. Artists will develop proficiency in the use of rulers and other measuring tools and aids. This unit will end with a reflection on optical illusions and tessellations while looking to the work of M.C. Escher.
