Unit Name

Learning Objectives

- How are speed, velocity and acceleration related?
- How can you distinguish between uniform motion and uniform acceleration?
- How does gravity affect the motion of an object?
- How is the graphical representation of motion analyzed using equations?
- How is the motion of an object related to different graphs of the motion of an object.
- How will you be able to describe a change in position?

Essential Skills

- Calculate the velocity and the displacement of an object undergoing constant acceleration
- Define velocity and acceleration operationally.
- Determine from the curves on a velocity-time graph both the constant and instantaneous acceleration.
- Interpret a v-t graph to find the time at which an object has a specific velocity
- Interpret graphs for a moving object and describe in words the information presented in graphs.
- Recognize the meaning of the acceleration due to gravity.
- Relate the direction and magnitude of velocity and acceleration to the motion of objects.
- Use the motion equations to solve problems involving freely falling objects.
- Write equations that describe the position of an object moving at constant velocity.

Assessment Procedure

- • Student progress will be measured by formative and summative assessments. To maximize student understanding current and cumulative topics will be assessed weekly. This unit is sequenced to begin with an informal assessment of prior knowledge of topics within the unit and determine any misconceptions. Students will then build small concrete blocks of information pertinent to mastery of this unit. Finally, students will be asked to use this information to evaluate higher level problems. This unit will end with a formal assessment common to all college prep students.)
