Modifications

The following are a list of general accommodations that be made for students depending on their needs and or individualized education plan (IEP):

1. Instructional Modifications

- Simplified instructions (e.g., break down multi-step directions).
 - Reduced language complexity (use simple grammar and vocabulary).
 - Use of native language support when appropriate.
 - Modified curriculum (focus on communication rather than grammar mastery).
 - Alternative assessments (e.g., projects, oral presentations instead of written exams).

2. Presentation Accommodations

- Visual aids and cues (pictures, icons, gestures).
 - Written and spoken instructions provided together.
 - Captions on videos (especially for listening comprehension).
 - Enlarged or high-contrast text for visual impairments.
 - Use of assistive technology (e.g., screen readers, speech-to-text tools).
 - Preview of vocabulary and grammar topics before new units.

3. Response Modifications

- Allowing verbal responses instead of written ones (or vice versa).
- Use of alternative formats (typed vs. handwritten, audio recordings).

- Extended time for responses and assessments.
 - Reduced number of questions or items without penalizing performance.
 - Use of multiple-choice instead of open-ended questions, if needed.

4. Environmental & Behavioral Supports

- Preferential seating (e.g., near the teacher or away from distractions).
 - Quiet workspace for tests or assignments.
 - Frequent breaks or chunked tasks for students with attention difficulties.
 - Positive behavior reinforcement and cues.
 - Clear routines and visual schedules.

5. Social and Communication Supports

- Peer pairing or buddy systems.
 - Role-play and interactive games to support communication practice.
 - Scripted dialogues for students with social communication needs.
 - Explicit teaching of social norms and cultural context.

6. Grading and Evaluation Modifications

- Modified grading criteria focusing on effort, participation, or improvement.
- Use of rubrics with clear, simplified expectations.
- Feedback focused on strengths and progress.

Acceleration

The following are lists of general acceleration strategies/ activities that be offered to students depending on their ability/ proficiency level:

Acceleration Strategies for Gifted Learners

1. Independent Study or Projects

- Allow students to choose a topic related to the language or culture and explore it in depth (e.g., music, history, literature, cuisine, current events).
- Can be presented as multimedia, presentations, essays, or portfolios.

2. Tiered Assignments

- Provide tasks that match or exceed the student's proficiency level (e.g., using more complex verb tenses or vocabulary earlier).
- Allow for open-ended questions and tasks requiring analysis, synthesis, or evaluation.

3. Novel or Authentic Texts

- Assign authentic reading and listening materials (e.g., news articles, podcasts, poems, or short stories in the target language).
- Provide discussion or analysis tasks afterward.

4. Advanced Grammar and Vocabulary

- Introduce complex grammar structures (e.g., subjunctive mood, idiomatic expressions) earlier than the class.
- Use higher-level vocabulary in assignments and conversations.

5. Foreign Language for Specific Purposes (FLSP)

- Tailor mini-units to student interests (e.g., business Spanish, medical French, travel-focused vocabulary).

6. Dual Language Exploration

- Let them compare two world languages or translate between their native language and the target one.
- Introduce etymology and language families.

7. Mentorship or Peer Tutoring

- Allow them to tutor classmates or lead group discussions.
 - Pair with a language teacher or native speaker mentor for conversation practice.

Sample Enrichment Activities for Gifted Students

- Create a digital storybook or video diary in the target language.
- Write and perform a short play or skit using extended vocabulary and grammar.
- Translate songs, poems, or short stories from English to the target language.
- Create a blog, vlog, or podcast about language and cultural topics.
- Debate or discuss current global issues in the target language.
- Join or create a language club or participate in language competitions.
- Explore cultural comparisons—e.g., compare government systems, education, or family life across countries.
