Targeted ELA Standards

Add the appropriate NJSL ELA standards with which this unit aligns. This is done by clicking "actions" and then "add standards".

ELA.L.SS.9–10.1	Demonstrate command of the system and structure of the English language when writing or speaking.
ELA.L.KL.9–10.2	Apply knowledge of language to make effective choices for meaning, or style, and to comprehend more fully when reading, writing, speaking or listening.
ELA.L.VL.9–10.3	Determine or clarify the meaning of unknown and multiple-meaning words and phrases based on grades 9–10 reading and content, including technical meanings, choosing flexibly from a range of strategies.
ELA.L.VI.9–10.4	Demonstrate understanding of figurative language, word relationships, and nuances in word meanings, including connotative meanings.
ELA.RL.CR.9–10.1	Cite a range of thorough textual evidence and make relevant connections to strongly support analysis of multiple aspects of what a literary text says explicitly and inferentially, as well as including determining where the text leaves matters uncertain.
ELA.RI.CR.9–10.1	Cite a range and thorough textual evidence and make clear and relevant connections, to strongly support an analysis of multiple aspects of what an informational text says explicitly and inferentially, as well as interpretations of the text.

ELA.RL.CI.9–10.2	Determine one or more themes of a literary text and analyze how it is developed and refined over the course of the text, including how it emerges and is shaped by specific details; provide an objective summary of the text.
ELA.RI.CI.9–10.2	Determine one or more central ideas of an informational text and analyze how it is developed and refined over the course of a text, including how it emerges and is shaped by specific details; provide an objective summary of the text.
ELA.RL.IT.9–10.3	Analyze how an author unfolds and develops ideas throughout a text, including how complex characters (e.g., those with multiple or conflicting motivations) develop, interact with other characters, and advance the plot or develop the theme.
ELA.RI.IT.9–10.3	Analyze how an author unfolds ideas throughout the text, including the order in which the points are made, how they are introduced and developed, and the connections that are drawn between them.
ELA.RL.TS.9–10.4	Analyze how an author’s choices concerning the structure of a text, order of the events within it (e.g., parallel plots), and manipulation of time (e.g., pacing, flashbacks) create specific effects (e.g., mystery, tension, or surprise).
ELA.RL.MF.9–10.6	Analyze, integrate, and evaluate multiple interpretations (e.g., recorded or live production of a play or recorded novel or poetry) of a single text or text/s presented in different formats (visually, quantitatively).
ELA.RL.CT.9–10.8	Analyze and reflect on (e.g., practical knowledge, historical/cultural context, and background knowledge) how an author draws on, develops, or transforms source material historical and literary significance (e.g., how a modern author treats a theme or topic from mythology or a religious text) and how they relate in terms of themes and significant concepts.
ELA.W.NW.9–10.3	Write narratives to develop real or imagined experiences or events using effective technique, well-chosen details, and well-structured event sequences.
ELA.W.WP.9–10.4	Develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, editing, rewriting, trying a new approach; sustaining effort to complete complex writing tasks; seeking out feedback and reflecting on personal writing progress; consulting a style manual (such as MLA or APA Style), focusing on addressing what is most significant for a specific purpose and audience.
ELA.W.RW.9–10.7	Write routinely over extended time frames (time for research, reflection, and revision) and shorter time frames (a single sitting or a day or two) for a range of tasks, purposes, and audiences.
ELA.SL.PE.9–10.1	Initiate and participate effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on-one, in groups, and teacher-led) with peers on grades 9–10 topics, texts, and issues, building on others’ ideas and expressing their own clearly and persuasively.
ELA.SL.AS.9–10.6	Adapt speech to a variety of contexts and tasks, demonstrating command of formal English.

Rationale

This unit is designed to engage students in Early American Literature by examining significant narratives from the colonial and early national periods, with a particular focus on Arthur Miller's play, "The Crucible." Through this exploration, students will gain insights into the cultural, social, and historical contexts of Early America while developing their narrative writing skills. Students will analyze key works of Early American Literature, including "The Crucible," to understand the themes, characterizations, and historical contexts that reflect the period's societal and cultural dynamics. Students will apply their understanding of Early American themes and historical contexts to create their own narratives. They will craft stories that either reflect the issues addressed in the texts studied or explore new perspectives within the same historical framework. Students will develop the ability to critically analyze texts and situations, drawing connections between historical events and contemporary issues. This skill translates to being able to evaluate news sources, understand different perspectives, and make informed decisions in their personal and civic lives.

Students will complete a benchmark assessment that evaluates their understanding of Early American Literature and historical contexts. This assessment will include critical analysis of the texts, identification of key themes, and contextual understanding. The summative assessment will be a narrative writing project where students craft an original narrative inspired by the themes and historical contexts explored in the unit. Students will create a story set in Early America that demonstrates their ability to integrate literary and historical elements, showcasing their skills in narrative structure, character development, and thematic exploration. Narrative writing enhances students' ability to tell stories, an essential skill in many professions, from marketing and journalism to education and law. Creative expression through writing provides an outlet for self-reflection and emotional processing, contributing to mental health and personal growth.

Enduring Understandings

Content Specific	Skills Specific
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Power of Fear and Hysteria: In times of crisis, fear and hysteria can distort truth and justice, revealing the complexities of human nature and societal dynamics. • The Role of Authority and Rebellion: Early American literature often explores the tension between authority and individual freedom, revealing the consequences of both conformity and rebellion. • Language as a Tool of Influence: Effective language use is crucial in shaping narrative voice, revealing character motivations, and influencing societal perceptions and outcomes. • Historical and Cultural Reflection: Literature reflects the values, conflicts, and cultural shifts of the time, helping readers understand how history shapes personal and collective identity. • Complexity of Moral Choices: Characters in Early American Literature often face difficult moral decisions that reflect broader societal issues, such as justice, integrity, and responsibility. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Narrative Writing: Students will craft narratives that explore the theme of fear, authority, and moral complexity, employing effective techniques such as characterization, dialogue, and plot development. • Textual Analysis: Students will analyze "The Crucible" for its use of figurative language, tone, and structure to understand how these elements create tension, reveal character motivations, and develop themes. • Collaborative Discussion: Through structured discussions, students will express their own ideas about the themes and characters in Early American Literature while considering and building on the perspectives of others. • Language and Vocabulary: Students will apply their knowledge of language and vocabulary to decipher the meanings of complex words, phrases, and figurative language in the context of Early American Literature.

 - Examining how an author's the current unit, this skill is further developed as students refine their language use to convey complex themes and ideas more effectively. Curriculum Reference: Units on thematic analysis and character development.

Vocabulary and Figurative Language

(ELA.L.VL.9–10.3 & ELA.L.VI.9–10.4): Students have worked on understanding and using vocabulary and figurative language in context. The current unit will extend these skills by analyzing how authors use figurative language and nuanced word meanings to convey deeper themes and ideas. Curriculum Reference: Units on literary devices and thematic analysis.

2. Reading Skills:

Citing Textual Evidence (ELA.RL.CR.9–10.1 & ELA.RI.CR.9–10.1):

In earlier units, students learned to cite textual evidence to support their analysis of themes and characters. This skill is reinforced in the current unit as students must provide thorough and relevant evidence to support their analysis of new texts. Curriculum Reference: Previous units on thematic analysis and character analysis.

Determining Themes and Central Ideas

(ELA.RL.CI.9–10.2 & ELA.RI.CI.9–10.2):

Students previously worked on identifying and analyzing themes in texts. The current unit builds on this by requiring students to determine and analyze more complex themes and central ideas, enhancing their understanding of how themes evolve and are developed throughout a text. Curriculum Reference: Units focused on thematic development and narrative analysis.

Analyzing Author's Development of Ideas

(ELA.RL.IT.9–10.3 & ELA.RI.IT.9–10.3):

Skills in analyzing how authors develop ideas and characters were established in earlier units. This unit deepens this analysis by focusing on how these elements interact and influence the plot and themes. Curriculum Reference: Previous units on character development and plot analysis.

Analyzing Text Structure (ELA.RL.TS.9–10.4 & ELA.RI.TS.9–10.4):

Prior units introduced students to basic structural elements in texts. The current unit structural choices create specific effects such as mystery, tension, or surprise.

○ Evaluating Multiple Interpretations (ELA.RL.MF.9–10.6 & ELA.RI.MF.9–10.6)

- Analyzing and integrating multiple interpretations of texts presented in different formats.

○ Analyzing Source Material (ELA.RL.CT.9–10.8 & ELA.RI.CT.9–10.8)

- Reflecting on how authors draw on, develop, or transform source materials and how texts relate to themes and significant concepts.

Writing Skills

○ Narrative Writing (ELA.W.NW.9–10.3)

- Writing narratives that develop real or imagined experiences using effective techniques, well-chosen details, and well-structured event sequences.

○ Writing Development (ELA.W.WP.9–10.4)

- Strengthening writing through planning, revising, editing, rewriting, and reflecting on feedback.

○ Routine Writing (ELA.W.RW.9–10.7)

- Writing regularly over extended and shorter time frames for various tasks, purposes, and audiences.

Speaking and Listening Skills

advances this by examining how the structure and manipulation of time contribute to thematic development and the overall effect of the text. Curriculum Reference: Units on narrative structure and literary techniques.

Determining Author’s Purpose (ELA.RI.PP.9–10.5): Previous units covered how authors use rhetorical devices and purposes in texts. The current unit extends this by analyzing how rhetorical devices are used within the context of thematic and structural elements. Curriculum Reference: Units on argumentative and informational writing.

3. Writing Skills:

Informative/Explanatory Writing (ELA.W.IW.9–10.2): Students have practiced writing informative texts in previous units. In the current unit, this skill is applied to more complex ideas and themes, focusing on clarity and effective organization of information. Curriculum Reference: Units on writing historical events and scientific procedures.

Writing Development (ELA.W.WP.9–10.4): The focus on revising, editing, and reflecting on writing from earlier units is reinforced as students continue to develop their writing skills through iterative feedback and revision processes. Curriculum Reference: Units on narrative and argumentative writing.

Routine Writing (ELA.W.RW.9–10.7): Regular writing practices from previous units will be applied to new tasks and time frames, reinforcing effective writing habits and skills. Curriculum Reference: Various writing assignments throughout previous units.

4. Speaking and Listening Skills:

Collaborative Discussions (ELA.SL.PE.9–10.1): Skills in initiating and participating in discussions have been built upon from previous units where students engaged in various discussion formats. The current unit will continue to emphasize effective collaboration and communication in group settings. Curriculum Reference: Units focused on discussion and debate.
