Rationale

This unit on "The Rime of the Ancient Mariner" and the theme of duality is designed to equip students with critical thinking and analytical skills essential for navigating complex real-world issues. By examining how contrasting perspectives, moral dilemmas, and supernatural elements are portrayed in literature, students develop the ability to approach multifaceted problems with a nuanced perspective. The unit encourages them to reflect on personal experiences and societal challenges, fostering an understanding of how different viewpoints influence ethical decisions and personal growth. This preparatory approach not only enhances their literary analysis skills but also empowers them to engage thoughtfully with diverse perspectives and complex situations in their future academic and personal lives.

Students will demonstrate mastery of the standards and skills through a comprehensive benchmark and summative assessment focused on argumentative writing. The benchmark will assess their ability to formulate and support a clear, persuasive thesis, integrate relevant textual evidence, and address counterarguments effectively. The summative assessment will require students to write a well-structured argumentative essay that reflects their understanding of complex issues, uses persuasive language, and applies critical thinking. By showcasing their proficiency in crafting coherent arguments and engaging with multiple perspectives, students will illustrate their ability to apply argumentative writing skills to both academic and real-world contexts.
