Rationale and Transfer Goals

In this unit, students will be introduced to the role that media plays in our everyday lives. Students will learn about the historical uses of propaganda and apply that understanding to modern media. Students will recognize different techniques in propaganda and advertising, analyze historical and contemporary examples of propaganda and advertising, question the importance and relevance of different forms of media in our society, and create their own advertisements and/or propaganda.

Enduring Understandings

As engaged citizens, our students should be aware of the role the media plays in American life. In this current age of social media, learning to discern and evaluate sources, understanding the purpose and point of view of propaganda and advertising, and being able to identify techniques in modern media are all important parts of becoming active members of society.

Essential Questions
