Lesson Summaries

Unit1 (Weeks 2-5)

Animals (Wordless) - Students demonstrate an understanding of a read-aloud and a video and write short texts with substantial help. They also listen to a presentation, answer prompts, and use adjectives in simple sentence patterns.

Wild Animals- Students answer factual questions about a text, sort living things into different groups, and write about ways to sort animals. They also contribute to conversations and combine multiple ideas to create detailed sentences.

Main Street Animal Shelter - Students interpret information presented in graphs, describe pets they would like to adopt and create tally charts and graphs. They also describe how to care for animals and use the present tense to discuss animal shelter routines

Animal Artists -Students refer to the parts of a story, identify whether books are fiction or nonfiction, and support points of view in writing. They also determine how well speakers support their opinions and create compound sentences.

Unit2 (Week 6-8)

Leaves - Students identify the examples an author provides to support ideas, use vocabulary to describe leaves, and discuss the advantages of leaf shapes. They negotiate with and persuade others in conversations. Students also identify and create figurative language using similies and alliteration.

Polar Bears in Trouble- Students identify the main idea in a text and learn how changes in the environment can have different effects on animals. Students summarize their learning in writing as well as plan and deliver oral presentations. They also connect ideas using the word because.

Parched - Students summarize important parts of a story, write short texts about themselves, and describe the plants and animals in their region. They actively listen to a teacher’s presentation and use adverbs in a simple sentence pattern.
