Status: Published

Unit Focus

Standards are integrated within each lesson to enable multilingual learners to work toward proficiency in English while learning content—developing the skills and confidence in listening, speaking, reading, and writing. The Units will focus on basic vocabulary and content development around maintaining health, the human hearing and nervous systems, maps, Native Americans, and historical figures from the westward expansion through using text evidence to support opinions, comparing and contrasting, and the correct use of pronouns and coordinating conjunctions.

WIDA Standards

ELD Standard 1: Language for Social and Instructional Purposes (ELD-SI)

ELD Standard 2: Language for Language Arts (ELD-LA)

ELD Standard 3: Language for Mathematics (ELD-MA)

ELD Standard 4: Language for Science (ELD-SC)

ELD Standard 5: Language for Social Studies (ELD-SS)

Lesson Summaries

Unit 4 (weeks 22-25)

Healthy and Happy- In this lesson, students describe, answer questions about, and write sentences about shapes. They graph information on pictographs. Students also use the modals may and must and use linking verbs to convey ideas. In this lesson, students answer factual comprehension questions and write about and discuss health practices. They use domain-specific words to create precision while speaking. Students also use but and so to create compound sentences.

Now Hear This- In this lesson, students describe ideas using information gained from a text, write about the shape of ears, and discuss their importance to survival. They contribute to conversations by expressing ideas and asking and answering questions. Students embed ideas using that and which.

The Nervous System- In this lesson, students show they understand information presented visually, write about the nervous system, and work in small groups to discuss body systems. They use register to practice adjusting their language according to different audiences. Students also use direct objects in simple sentence patterns.

Unit 5 (weeks 26-29)

My Country (wordless)-In this lesson, students identify words that provide evidence for ideas, write opinions about natural geographical features, and create maps of U.S. geographical features. They identify how synonyms have different effects on audiences. Students also use the simple future tense.

Learning from the Iroquois Peoples- In this lesson, students recount key ideas or details about the Iroquois Confederacy, write about the character traits of early Americas, and create displays of the character traits of their peers. They use connecting words and phrases and support opinions with reasons when discussing the Iroquois peoples.

Daniel Boone: Into the Wilderness- In this lesson, students identify important details and concepts, explain what they would take on an expedition, and discuss how regional folk heroes have contributed to the cultural history of the United States. They use short, learned phrases to ask and answer questions. Students also use pronouns to replace nouns in a text.
