Differentiation

- Understand that gifted students, just like all students, come to school to learn and be challenged.
- Pre-assess your students. Find out their areas of strength as well as those areas you may need to address before students move on.
- Consider grouping gifted students together for at least part of the school day.
- Plan for differentiation. Consider pre-assessments, extension activities, and compacting the curriculum.
- Use phrases like "You've shown you don't need more practice" or "You need more practice" instead of words like "qualify" or "eligible" when referring to extension work.
- Encourage high-ability students to take on challenges. Because they're often used to getting good grades, gifted students may be risk averse.

• Definitions of Differentiation Components:

- Content – the specific information that is to be taught in the lesson/unit/course of instruction.
- Process – how the student will acquire the content information.
- Product – how the student will demonstrate understanding of the content.
- Learning Environment – the environment where learning is taking place including physical location and/or student grouping

Differentiation occurring in this unit:

Differentiation

Preteach Empire Show a picture of the Empire State Building and ask students to describe it. (Tall, impressive, etc.) Tell students that it is fitting that this building has the term empire in its name because an empire is also large. Then have students read Section 1 to find out how we define empire in social studies.

Modify the Reading Notes To help students organize the Reading Notes, have them create a fun study guide. Give each student a square sheet of paper, 8.5 inches by 8.5 inches. Have students fold each corner so that the four points meet in the center. Tell students to write the name of one of the four empires on each of the four triangles. Next, have students open the triangles and use the inside of each triangle to take notes about the corresponding empire. Afterward, students should fold each triangle in again, trace its outline on the central square, and use the outlined space to add a simple drawing for the corresponding empire.

Support the Reading Notes Prepare a hint sheet to help students complete Reading Notes 6. Randomly list the answers in Guide to Reading Notes 6. Students can refer to the hint sheet and match each empire with a particular achievement and its importance.

Advanced Learners

Research the Persian Empire The end of this lesson refers to the Persian Empire conquering the Neo-Babylonians. Have students research and report on:

- Where was the Persian Empire?
- When did the Persian Empire rule Mesopotamia? How did it rise and fall?
- Who were the major leaders of the Persian Empire?
- What were the military, political, economic, and cultural achievements of the Persian Empire?

Modifications & Accommodations

Refer to QSAC EXCEL SMALL SPED ACCOMMODATIONS spreadsheet in this discipline.

Modifications and Accommodations used in this unit:

Follow IEP modifications in addition to differentiation listed above.

guided notes

Benchmark Assessments

---

Benchmark Assessments are given periodically (e.g., at the end of every quarter or as frequently as once per month) throughout a school year to establish baseline achievement data and measure progress toward a standard or set of academic standards and goals.

Schoolwide Benchmark assessments:

Aimsweb benchmarks 3X a year

Linkit Benchmarks 3X a year

Additional Benchmarks used in this unit:

sentence construction

paragraph writing

Formative Assessments

---

Assessment allows both instructor and student to monitor progress towards achieving learning objectives, and can be approached in a variety of ways. Formative assessment refers to tools that identify misconceptions, struggles, and learning gaps along the way and assess how to close those gaps. It includes effective tools for helping to shape learning, and can even bolster students' abilities to take ownership of their learning when they understand that the goal is to improve learning, not apply final marks (Trumbull and Lash, 2013). It can include students assessing themselves, peers, or even the instructor, through writing, quizzes, conversation, and more. In short, formative assessment occurs throughout a class or course, and seeks to improve student achievement of learning objectives through approaches that can support specific student needs (Theal and Franklin, 2010, p. 151).

Formative Assessments used in this unit:

See assessments embedded in lesson plans above.

Summative Assessments

---

Summative assessments evaluate student learning, knowledge, proficiency, or success at the conclusion of an instructional period, like a unit, course, or program. Summative assessments are almost always formally graded and often heavily weighted (though they do not need to be). Summative assessment can be used to great effect in conjunction and alignment with formative assessment, and instructors can consider a variety of ways to combine these approaches.

Summative assessments for this unit:

See assessments embedded in lesson plans above.
