Differentiation

- Understand that gifted students, just like all students, come to school to learn and be challenged.
- Pre-assess your students. Find out their areas of strength as well as those areas you may need to address before students move on.
- Consider grouping gifted students together for at least part of the school day.
- Plan for differentiation. Consider pre-assessments, extension activities, and compacting the curriculum.
- Use phrases like "You've shown you don't need more practice" or "You need more practice" instead of words like "qualify" or "eligible" when referring to extension work.
- Encourage high-ability students to take on challenges. Because they're often used to getting good grades, gifted students may be risk averse.
- Definitions of Differentiation Components:
 - Content – the specific information that is to be taught in the lesson/unit/course of instruction.
 - Process – how the student will acquire the content information.
 - Product – how the student will demonstrate understanding of the content.
 - Learning Environment – the environment where learning is taking place including physical location and/or student grouping

Differentiation occurring in this unit:

Differentiation/Modifications:

Learners Below Grade Level Reading/Writing

Annotate the Legacy Cards Annotate each legacy card from the Student Handout. Underline words that students may have difficulty with. On the bottom or back of the legacy cards, provide a brief definition for those words. For example, on the legacy card for biology, you might underline the words nurseries, bulbs, and pollinated. Consider making a simple sketch of a flowering plant and label it to help define these terms.

- Provide Sentence Starters For the Processing activity, provide some or all of these sentence starters to help students explain their placements along the spectrum. Students might use these starters as a resource:
 - • [Name of contribution] has the least significant impact on modern life because . . .
 - • [Name of contribution] has some significant impact on modern life because . . .
 - • [Name of contribution] has the most significant impact on modern life because . . .
 - • [Name of contribution] has more/less significant impact on modern life than [Name of other contribution] because . . .

Learners with Special Education Needs

- Support the Reading Notes For the last column on the matrix in the Reading Notes, use the Guide to Reading Notes to provide two examples of contributions. Tell students that they have to find one additional example as they read. Students should then choose and draw the one example they think is the most important. You might also consider using the Guide to Reading Notes to provide some of the matches for the placards, if necessary.
- Reduce the Processing Activity Requirements Rather than have students choose and draw five items to place on the spectrum, have students select two. Students should select the contributions that they think had the least and the most significant impact on modern life. Students should label the spectrum, draw an illustration, and write a sentence for each of the two contributions.

Advanced Learners

- Design Commemorative Stamps Tell students that the U.S. Postal Service has decided to issue a series of stamps celebrating the contributions of the ancient Greeks. Students have been asked to use pictures and/or words to design four stamps that represent their choices of ancient Greek contributions. They must also write a speech explaining why they have selected these contributions from all the ones they learned about in this lesson. If time permits, have students present their stamps and speeches in small groups. Alternatively, have students post their designs, conduct a gallery walk, and hold a class vote to determine which stamps to use in the postal series.
- Create a Gallery of Greek Figures Have students work in pairs or in small groups to research one or more of the ancient Greeks discussed in the lesson. Students should then create a “bust” for a gallery of Greek figures. Each bust should include the following: an image of the figure’s head; a nameplate with the figure’s name, his or her title, and some biographical information; and a plaque that describes the figure's most important achievements.

Learners Reading and Writing Below Grade Level

- Read One Section at a Time Break up the reading during the Visual Discovery activity so that students read only one section at a time.
- To break up the reading for Physical Geography of Greece:
- Ask all but the last bulleted question in Step 2. Have students read Section 2 and complete the corresponding Reading Notes.
- Ask the last bulleted question in Step 2. Have students read Section 3 and complete the corresponding Reading Notes.
- To break up the reading for Ancient Greek Colonies and Trade Routes: Ask all but the last two bulleted questions in Step 5. Have students read Section 4 and complete the corresponding Reading Notes.
- Ask the last two bulleted questions in Step 5. Have students read Section 5 and complete the corresponding Reading Notes.
- Scaffold the Reading Notes Use the Guide to Reading Notes to scaffold the Reading Notes so that students take steps toward working more independently.
- For Section 2, omit key words that students can fill in.
- For Sections 3 and 4, provide prompts that students can complete.
- For Section 5, have students complete as written.

Learners with Special Education Needs

- Divide the Preview Question Divide the Preview question in the Interactive Student Notebook into two separate questions: How do you think the physical geography of Greece influenced where people settled? and How do you think the physical geography of Greece influenced how people lived? Students should write a brief response to each question.
- Offer a Choice for the Processing Activity Have students complete two of the four storyboard pages for the Processing activity. Allow students the choice of doing Pages 1 and 2 or Pages 3 and 4. Alternatively, consider pairing students to work together to complete all four pages of the storyboard.

Advanced Learners

- Add Questions to the Debrief Add the following questions to Step 8 in the Visual Discovery activity:

Formative Assessments

Assessment allows both instructor and student to monitor progress towards achieving learning objectives, and can be approached in a variety of ways. Formative assessment refers to tools that identify misconceptions, struggles, and learning gaps along the way and assess how to close those gaps. It includes effective tools for helping to shape learning, and can even bolster students' abilities to take ownership of their learning when they understand that the goal is to improve learning, not apply final marks (Trumbull and Lash, 2013). It can include students assessing themselves, peers, or even the instructor, through writing, quizzes, conversation, and more. In short, formative assessment occurs throughout a class or course, and seeks to improve student achievement of learning objectives through approaches that can support specific student needs (Theal and Franklin, 2010, p. 151).

Formative Assessments used in this unit:

See assessments listed above.

Summative Assessments

Summative assessments evaluate student learning, knowledge, proficiency, or success at the conclusion of an instructional period, like a unit, course, or program. Summative assessments are almost always formally graded and often heavily weighted (though they do not need to be). Summative assessment can be used to great effect in conjunction and alignment with formative assessment, and instructors can consider a variety of ways to combine these approaches.

Summative assessments for this unit:

See assessments listed above.
