

Dec. SW Gr. 1 WRITING: Personal Narrative

Content Area: English
Course(s):
Time Period: December
Length: 6-8 Weeks
Status: Published

Unit Overview

Text Type: Narrative

Personal narratives tell the big and small stories of our lives. Personal narratives are typically the easiest, most natural form of writing for children because the stories are already complete inside their minds, which enables the words to flow more easily onto the paper. It is this easy flow of words that supports students' efforts to produce a complete piece of writing. This provides teachers more opportunities to help students refine their writing because they better understand the heart of their pieces. As teachers surround their students with this natural, life-enriching genre, wonderful opportunities will be presented for students to make connections with themselves and others. Constructing meaningful personal narratives helps students discover important things about who they are and what they hope to be like in the future. This type of writing also helps students make sense of their life experiences and discover that others may share similar experiences, even when they may have little else in common.

Enduring Understandings

Writers of personal narratives often take readers on a journey, describing a sequence of events that create interest and re-create memorable experiences.

Students recognize that they too have memorable and interesting experiences to share.

Essential Questions

What techniques and structures do successful personal narrative writers use?

Mini-Lessons

Generating Ideas I: Writing Is Storytelling uses The Keeping Quilt by Patricia Polacco.

Rationale: Writers often derive inspiration from the stories they themselves love to hear. Students will use stories they love to hear or know from their personal experience to help them generate ideas for writing.

Generating Ideas II: No Place Like Home uses My Steps by Sally Derby.

Rationale: Writers of personal narratives often explore the feelings associated with being “at home” or “going home” to a particular place. Students can readily recognize the sense of place that characterizes the personal narratives they read and emulate the theme of home in their own writings and drawings.

Common Core State Standards: W.1.3, W.1.5, W.1.7, W.1.8, SL.1.1, SL.1.2, SL.1.3, SL.1.4, SL.1.5, SL.1.6, L.1.1, L.1.2, L.1.4, L.1.5, L.1.6

Generating Ideas III: Stories Take You on a Journey uses My Visit to the Aquarium by Aliki.

Rationale: Writers of personal narratives often take readers on a journey, describing a sequence of events that create interest and re-create memorable experiences. Students recognize that they too have memorable and interesting experiences to share and can do so more successfully by including descriptive details and temporal words from beginning to end.

Common Core State Standards: W.1.3, W.1.5, W.1.7, W.1.8, SL.1.1, SL.1.2, SL.1.3, SL.1.4, SL.1.5, SL.1.6, L.1.1, L.1.2, L.1.4, L.1.5, L.1.6

Generating Ideas IV: Writing to Remember uses When I Was Five by Arthur Howard.

Rationale: Writers write personal narratives to remember who they were and where they have been. Students will remember and reflect on who they were and what they did when they were younger compared to who they are now.

Common Core State Standards: W.1.3, W.1.5, W.1.7, W.1.8, SL.1.1, SL.1.2, SL.1.3, SL.1.4, SL.1.6, L.1.1, L.1.2, L.1.4, L.1.5, L.1.6

Differentiation

Student Strengths and weaknesses will be assessed and monitored, and individualized/differentiated learning will be assigned as appropriate.

- Understand that gifted students, just like all students, come to school to learn and be challenged.
- Pre-assess your students. Find out their areas of strength as well as those areas you may need to address before students move on.
- Consider grouping gifted students together for at least part of the school day.
- Plan for differentiation. Consider pre-assessments, extension activities, and compacting the curriculum.
- Use phrases like "You've shown you don't need more practice" or "You need more practice" instead of words like "qualify" or "eligible" when referring to extension work.
- Encourage high-ability students to take on challenges. Because they're often used to getting good grades, gifted students may be risk averse.

- Definitions of Differentiation Components:

- Content – the specific information that is to be taught in the lesson/unit/course of instruction.
- Process – how the student will acquire the content information.
- Product – how the student will demonstrate understanding of the content.
- Learning Environment – the environment where learning is taking place including physical location and/or student grouping

Differentiation occurring in this unit:

Choices of personal reading texts will be leveled or matched to each student's interest and comfort levels.

Modifications & Accommodations

IEP accommodations, and modifications will be in place, and teacher assigned modifications and accommodations will be assigned, assessed, and monitored.

Follow IEP accommodations and differentiate materials, project requirements as needed.

Refer to QSAC EXCEL SMALL SPED ACCOMMODATIONS spreadsheet in this discipline.

Additional Modifications and Accommodations used in this unit:

Formative Assessments

Assessment allows both instructor and student to monitor progress towards achieving learning objectives, and can be approached in a variety of ways. Formative assessment refers to tools that identify misconceptions, struggles, and learning gaps along the way and assess how to close those gaps. It includes effective tools for helping to shape learning, and can even bolster students' abilities to take ownership of their learning when they understand that the goal is to improve learning, not apply final marks (Trumbull and Lash, 2013). It can include students assessing themselves, peers, or even the instructor, through writing, quizzes, conversation, and more. In short, formative assessment occurs throughout a class or course, and seeks to improve student achievement of learning objectives through approaches that can support specific student needs (Theal and Franklin, 2010, p. 151).

Formative Assessments used in this unit:

Discussion

teacher conferences

drafts

anecdotal records

Benchmark Assessments

Writing Sample administered twice a year.

Benchmark Assessments are given periodically (e.g., at the end of every quarter or as frequently as once per month) throughout a school year to establish baseline achievement data and measure progress toward a standard or set of academic standards and goals.

Schoolwide Benchmark assessments:

Aimsweb benchmarks 3X a year

Linkit Benchmarks 3X a year

DRA

Additional Benchmarks used in this unit:

Summative Assessments

summative assessments evaluate student learning, knowledge, proficiency, or success at the conclusion of an instructional period, like a unit, course, or program. Summative assessments are almost always formally graded and often heavily weighted (though they do not need to be). Summative assessment can be used to great effect in conjunction and alignment with formative assessment, and instructors can consider a variety of ways to combine these approaches.

Summative assessments for this unit:

Student Self-Reflection

uses a self-reflection questionnaire.

Rationale: All writers use self-reflection to learn and grow as writers. A self-assessment questionnaire will help students understand how they have grown over time.
