Essential Questions

- What does it take to build a new society?

Big Ideas

- Environment and location influence where people live and what they do there.
- People adapt and modify the world around them to better suit their needs
- Trade and technology promote economic growth.
- Various systems of labor were factors in the prosperity of colonial America.
- As people and nations interact, they shape the cultural and political institutions in new ways.

Technology Integration

8.1.5.DA.1: Collect, organize, and display data in order to highlight relationships or support a claim.

Activity:

Students will research information using the internet and print sources on colonial life and occupations. Students will create a poster either online or print advertising aspects of their occupation, detailing the information learned from their research.

Diversity Integration

Objective:

Students will describe how slaves came to America through the Middle passage and explain what life was like for a slave in colonial America.

Activity:

1-Students will use what they learned the triangular slave trade and life in the colonies to create a journal from the view point of a slave.

2- Students will research what life was like for a slave traveling the middle passage and living in the colonies.

3- Students will gather information from reliable websites.
