Cross-Curricular Integration

Language Arts Companion Standards:

W.IW.6.2. Write informative/explanatory texts (including the narration of historical events, scientific procedures/ experiments, or technical processes) to examine a topic and convey ideas, concepts, and information through the selection, organization, and analysis of relevant content.

- A. Introduce a topic and organize ideas, concepts, and information, using text structures (e.g., definition, classification, comparison/contrast, cause/effect, etc.) and text features (e.g., headings, graphics, and multimedia) when useful to aid in comprehension.
- B. Develop the topic with relevant facts, definitions, concrete details, quotations, or other information and examples.
- C. Use appropriate transitions to clarify the relationships among ideas and concepts.

- D. Use precise language and domain-specific vocabulary to inform about or explain the topic.
- E. Acknowledge and attempt a formal/academic style, approach, and form.
- F. Provide a concluding statement or section (e.g., sentence, part of a paragraph, paragraph, or multiple paragraphs) that follows from and supports the information or explanation presented.

L.KL.6.2. Use knowledge of language and its conventions when writing, speaking, reading, or listening.

- A. Acquire and use accurately grade-appropriate general academic and domain-specific words and phrases.
- B. Gather vocabulary knowledge when considering a word or phrase important to comprehension or expression.
- C. Vary sentence patterns for meaning (syntax), reader/listener interest, and style/voice.
- D. Maintain consistency in style and tone.

RL.CI.6.2. Determine the theme of a literary text (e.g., stories, plays or poetry) and explain how it is supported by key details; provide a summary of the text distinct from personal opinions or judgments.

Activity:

Rome was an important and vital ancient civilization. Based on your knowledge and research, write an informative essay that explains Rome’s influence on the United States. Be sure to use evidence to support your response including references from multiple credible sources.

Social and Emotional Learning

Rome

- PLAN Problem Solving
- Audience-Focused Communication

Students work in cooperative groups to take on the role as the teacher. They work together to teach a topic of the lesson and present it to their classmates using google slides. After teaching their classmates the lesson and providing them with notes, they assess their classmates. All decisions on how to teach the lesson are made by the students. One assessment is an SEL interactive question that has no wrong answer to involve all classmates

- Responsible Listening

Students will stand in a circle and share if they thought Julius Caesar was a good leader in Rome or awful dictator? They will provide evidence from their classmates’ presentations to support their opinion.

- Respectful Empathic Debate
- Collaborative Creativity

They will use empathy while listening to classmates' opinions on Caesar as a leader. Students will share how they think Rome should have restored the Roman republic following Julius Caesar. They will compare this to ways we can remove a leader from power that the citizens may not like. STAT: Julius Caesar was a dangerous dictator and taking advantage of his power in Rome.

CSDT Technology Integration

8.1.8.A.2 Create a document (e.g. newsletter, reports, personalized learning plan, business letters or flyer's) using one or more digital applications to be critiqued by professionals for usability.

Activity:

Students will view three documents on the computer. They will use the three documents to type a written response. The documents will be displayed digitally for students to review. The documents will be used to answer one question. They will explain how Rome influenced the United States through government, architecture, and entertainment. As a group, students will annotate the documents and determine how the documents answer the question. Next, as a whole group, students will work to create a graphic organizer for their written response. Finally, students will digitally create a document to explain Rome's influence on the U.S.
