-Students present their Asian American or Pacific Islanders worksheet and the four prominent Asian Americans or Pacific Islanders they researched. They will also share the three facts about each individual they researched.

Assessment

-Students' quizzes

-Students' answers during the video

-Students' Asian American or Pacific Islanders research project and presentation

Cross Curricular Integration

English - Language Arts

W.6.3.a Write narratives to develop real or imagined experiences or events using well-structured event sequences.

Activity:

Students will write a short story based on visiting a friend's place of religious worship or holiday celebration who is of a different faith than the writer. Students will detail what is similar or different from their own religious worship or holiday celebration. Students will remember to use consistent points of view and use facts on different religions used in class.

Social and Emotional Learning

Chapter 19

STAT: Feudalism did not well and caused problems for society.

CSDT Technology Integration

8.1.8.E.1 Effectively use a variety of search tools and filters in professional public databases to find information to solve a real world problem.

Activity:

Students will work in cooperative groups to research a world religion. They will research the beliefs, their influence over other cultures, and how they impact the world today. They will research any real world problems these religious groups may face today. Students will work together to complete a graphic organizer. The graphic organizer will then be transferred to a google slide presentation. Students will use reliable websites and library digital reference books to research for their presentation. This will allow them to effectively use a variety of search tools through databases to find information. They will include video clips and create a game to help enhance the knowledge of classmates.
