Cross-Curricular Integration

ELA

- Write arguments focused on discipline-specific content.
- Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development, organization, voice, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience.

- With some guidance and support from peers and adults, develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, editing, rewriting, or trying a new approach, focusing on how well purpose and audience have been addressed.
- Use technology, including the Internet, to produce and publish writing and present the relationships between information and ideas clearly and efficiently.
- Conduct short research projects to answer a question (including a self-generated question), drawing on several sources and generating additional related, focused questions that allow for multiple avenues of exploration.
- Gather relevant information from multiple print and digital sources, using search terms effectively; assess the credibility and accuracy of each source; and quote or paraphrase the data and conclusions of others while avoiding plagiarism and following a standard format for citation.
- Draw evidence from informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.
- Cite specific textual evidence to support analysis of science and technical texts.
- Determine the central ideas or conclusions of a text; provide an accurate summary of the text distinct from prior knowledge or opinions.
- Follow precisely a multistep procedure when carrying out experiments, taking measurements, or performing technical tasks.
- Determine the meaning of symbols, key terms, and other domain-specific words and phrases as they are used in a specific scientific or technical context relevant to grades 6-8 texts and topics.

Activity:

The Electoral College: The Electoral College is used in the United States to elect the President and the Vice President. Do you think this is an effective way to elect our country's leaders? Compose an argument essay that states your opinion on this issue. Defend your claim with reasoning, data and evidence from multiple credible sources using evidence to support your argument.

Diversity Integration

LGBTQ

Chapter 4

Students will read about the Civil Rights Movement in chapter 4, lesson 4 in their textbooks. They will cover how various groups of citizens have worked to achieve civil rights. This will be extended to the LGBTQ community. Students will work cooperatively to teach each other how various citizens worked to achieve Civil Rights (women, Latinos, Native Americans, the disabled, and LGBTQ). Students will connect this lesson to individuals who have greatly impacted the LGBTQ community. Examples include, but are not limited to, Laverne Cox, Lena Waithe, Michael Sam, Tammy Baldwin, Jared Polis, Barbara Gittings, and Harvey Milk.

National Hispanic Heritage

National Hispanic Heritage Month Sept. 15th - Oct. 15th

Students will choose a country in Latin America to profile. They will create a presentation based on their country and find an Hispanic leader who originates from that country who has impacted the USA. Students will then write a short poem or song about their chosen leader or country and present it to the class.

Social and Emotional Learning

Disagreements with Great Britain

- PLAN Problem Solving
- Collaborative Creativity
- Audience-Focused Communication

Students will complete this activity at the end of the first unit of study in Civics. Students will be asked to create a song that models Taylor Swift's We Are Never Getting Back Together in cooperative groups. Students will be asked to change the lyrics so that they apply to the United States breaking away from Great Britain. Students will complete this activity, then rap or sing their created song to their classmates. Students will share their lyrics with their classmates, to create another study guide tool to help prepare for their first unit test in 8th grade social studies. Students must use all facts and resources from the social studies unit supplied by the teacher or from the textbook (cannot use outside information that does not pertain to the upcoming test).

- Responsible Listening

When each group has finished presenting, or singing their newly created song/rap, the students observing will have to write down one lyric or piece of information that was retained from their classmates presentation.

- Respectful Empathic Debate
- Collaborative Creativity

Students will then discuss the decision of breaking away from Great Britain and all of the events leading up to the separation from Great Britain.

6.1.5.CivicsPI.8: Describe how the United States Constitution defines and limits the power of government.

6.1.5.CivicsHR.1: Describe how fundamental rights guaranteed by the United States Constitution and the Bill of Rights contribute to the improvement of American democracy (i.e., freedom of expression, freedom of religion, freedom of the press, freedom of assembly, freedom of petition, the right to vote, and the right to due process)

DBQ Activity

How did the Constitution create a government that protects the rights of the people while also establishing a strong central government?

What are the goals of the Constitution listed in the Preamble?

What do these goals say about the purpose of the new government?

What powers does the Constitution give to Congress?

How do these powers make the national government stronger than under the Articles of Confederation?

What is the purpose of separating the government into three branches?

How does this prevent one branch from becoming too powerful?

What rights are protected by these amendments?

How does the Bill of Rights limit the power of the federal government?
