STEM/STEAM

VISUAL BRAINSTORMING: Students will use various brainstorming activities to create and visualize writing topics

Essential Questions

- Why is it important to choose a significant topic or event from my life to write about?
- How do sensory details and descriptions of reactions and feelings enhance my story?
- How can an interesting story opening contribute to my story?
- Why is it important to end a story by providing a sense of closure?
- Why are transitional words and phrases important for organizing the events of a story?

Big Ideas

- Personal Narrative
- Choosing Topics for Writing
- The Importance of Sensory Details
- Strong Openings and Closings
- Using Transitions to Organize Writing

Handwriting and Spelling

Handwriting:

Practice cursive handwriting by writing spelling words in cursive. Trace over teacher-created pages of the current spelling words, and also write the spelling words in cursive in Spelling Notebooks.

Spelling:

Spelling words taken from the Fountas & Pinnell High-Frequency Word List for Grade 4. Spelling Notebooks are used for in-class practice (which includes cursive practice). One formal 20-word spelling test will be given at the end of this unit. Spelling will also be assessed on the rubric for this unit. (Two formal spelling tests will be given each marking period. Writing rubrics also assess spelling.)

Enduring Understandings

Writing
