

04_ World History/Global Studies: Global Interactions and Colonialism/Imperialism (Atlantic World and North and South American Geography, and Worldwide Changes)

Content Area: Social Studies
Course(s):
Time Period: Full Year
Length: 20 days
Status: Published

General Overview, Course Description or Course Philosophy

World History/Global Studies is a required survey course with a major focus on the developments in world history from the Renaissance to the present. Both a chronological and thematic approach will be used to foster an understanding of the world today through the use of primary documents. Honors level students will be expected to have a high level of reading and writing proficiency and the recommendation of both their Social Studies and English teachers.

OBJECTIVES, ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS, ENDURING UNDERSTANDINGS

According to the 2020 New Jersey Student Learning Standards – Social Studies 6.2 World History: Global Studies by the End of Grade 12:

Era 1. The Emergence of the First Global Age: Global Interactions and Colonialism

- The methods of and motivations for exploration and conquest resulted in increased global interactions, differing patterns of trade, colonization, and conflict among nations. Colonization was inspired by the desire to have access to resources and markets, often at the expense of the indigenous culture, population, and environment.

Era 2. Renaissance, Reformation, Scientific Revolution, and Enlightenment (1350–1700)

- Ideas developed during the Renaissance, Scientific Revolution, Reformation, and Enlightenment led to political, economic, and cultural changes that have had a lasting impact.

Enduring Understanding(s):

- Students will understand that the causes which led European nations and other world powers to expand their economic, political, and cultural power had short-term and long term results.
- Students will understand that the methods of and motivations for exploration and conquest resulted in increased global interactions, differing patterns of trade, colonization, and conflict among nations.
- Students will understand that colonization was inspired by the desire to have access to resources and markets, often at the expense of the indigenous culture, population, and environment.

Essential Question(s):

- What similar items were traded from America to Europe and Asia? What items were different?
- What were the various motivations for exploration and trade?
- What role did new technology and innovation play during the Age of Exploration?
- How were the different ports within triangular trade similar and different?
- What were the different views of territorial acquisition?
- How did the treatment of indigenous peoples differ amongst the English, Spanish, French and Dutch?

EVIDENCE OF LEARNING

Alternative:

- Portfolios
- Verbal Assessment (instead of written)
- Multiple choice
- Modified Rubrics
- Performance Based Assessments

Benchmark:

Standards based through Pear Assessment

Benchmark Assessments

Benchmark Assessment using Pear Assessment conducted three times per year - Standards based

Formative Assessments

For this unit, formative assessments can/will include:

- Students will read a primary source related to the Atlantic World and Age of Discovery. Then students will be organized into groups to demonstrate knowledge of salient points from the documents.
- Students will then be separated from their expert group into a jigsaw groups to teach their knowledge of the reading. Instead of presenting to the class the students will be presenting to each other.
- Review challenge basketball: Students will choose a partner and receive a review sheet. Upon completion, the answers will be checked on the spot. For each correct answer that pair can take one shot at the basketball hoop for every correct answer. For each shot made the group will receive a chance to spin the rewards wheel.
- Teacher will listen into the small teaching sessions and will ask questions to check comprehension.
- Students will label maps and create a timeline.

Alternative:

- Self-paced Nearpod lesson of the Colombian Exchange, Slave Trade, and various motivations for explorations.
- Answering questions.

Summative Assessments

For this unit, summative assessments can/will include:

- Students will demonstrate their knowledge in a teacher generated test or quiz.
- Debate- Students will gather information from their textbooks, primary sources, and secondary sources. The class will simulate a UN meeting to justify their views of territorial acquisition.
- Write a short paragraph to evaluate their views of imperialism.
- "The Deadliest Warrior: The Maori v the Shaolin Monk": Students will examine the culture of the Maori. Students will write an evaluation of how different weapons were used to advance two different civilizations.
