EVIDENCE OF LEARNING

Alternative:

- Portfolios
- Verbal Assessment (instead of written)
- Multiple choice
- Modified Rubrics
- Performance Based Assessments

Benchmark:

Standards based through Pear Assessment

Benchmark Assessments

Benchmark Assessment using Pear Assessment conducted three times per year - Standards based

Formative Assessments

For this unit, formative assessments can/will include:

- Students will read a primary source related to the Atlantic World and Age of Discovery. Then students will be organized into groups to demonstrate knowledge of salient points from the documents.

- Read the prologue to Guns, Germs, and Steel. Then, identify the key concepts and take notes.
- Self-paced Nearpod and/or EdPuzzle.
- KWL- Inequality. What are the causes of inequality?
- Examine the introduction DVD to understanding the book that they will be reading in class that defines the causes of inequality in the world. Answer questions following Bloom's taxonomy that will be asked. Students will write in their learning logs.
- Conference in groups with the teacher to make sure they are on track for the presentations.
- Student generated quizzes to assess learning of classmates.
- Short writing assignments to check for understanding.
- Student or teacher generated questions throughout the films to check for understanding. If teacher generated, student can use whiteboards to answer questions.
- Play the Urban Game and assess learning through end product.

Alternative:

- French Revolution Game- The French Revolution: Students will be split into 2 teams those for the revolution and royalists. Each group may answer any of the questions and will have the opportunity to find the answers to the questions within their packets. This means they may read through the information to find the answer if they are unsure. If a student wants to answer they should stand up and then be called on. If the student answers the question correctly, they will then choose a number in the opposing teams' number range. Before the game each person on both teams was randomly assigned a number. The students on the team for the revolution were assigned some of the numbers from # 1- 25 and those against the revolution were assigned #26-50. When an opposing team guesses a number of a person on the other team, that person is guillotined (not literally) and is eliminated not from the game but the scoreboard only. The winning team is decided by the amount of people still standing after all the questions have been asked.
- Answering questions.

Summative Assessments

For this unit, summative assessments can/will include:

- Students will demonstrate their knowledge in a teacher generated test or quiz.
- News Broadcast Projects. Students will present a video or live news broadcast on a topic assigned by the teacher for Nationalist Revolutions or Industrial Revolutions. This must include interviews with varying viewpoints on their topic, a commercial break for a new consumer product that would have existed during that time, organization, accurate content, and refined presentation skills. Students will complete a student generated quiz immediately after each of the presentations. The group that presented will complete a self-assessment of their presentation.

- Create a class cookbook: Find or create a healthy recipe to share with your class. The recipe should be nutritional and “healthy”. Use the information you learned in class to assist in choosing healthy ingredients. Post the recipe to the link provided below. The same link is located on the class website under Links, on the right hand side, labeled Healthy Recipe Padlet Cookbook.
- Create a poster for a gallery walk and expert groups share.
- PSA to solve one of the long-term effects of imperialism.
