

Unit 2: Introduction to High School Yearbook Production and Sales

Content Area: TEMPLATE
Course(s):
Time Period: Full Year
Length: 3 Weeks
Status: Published

General Overview, Course Description or Course Philosophy

In this course, students communicate in a variety of forms for a variety of audiences and purposes. Yearbook is journalistic in nature and allows students to participate in the production of the school yearbook. Students in this course are required to learn the basics of yearbook journalism including layout design, theme, coverage, copy-writing, graphic design, photography, finance, and advertising. Students are expected to plan, draft, and complete written and/or visual compositions on a regular basis, carefully examining their copy for clarity, engaging language and the correct use of the conventions and mechanics of written English. Students will learn the importance of working as a team to complete tasks successfully and on time. Individual responsibility is essential toward the completion of assignments for deadlines. Students will also have the opportunity to accept leadership positions and develop new skills as they build the yearbook

OBJECTIVES, ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS, ENDURING UNDERSTANDINGS

Objective: In this unit, students will learn the significance of a high school yearbook and strategize ways to make the importance of purchasing a yearbook relevant to the consumer. All yearbook terms will be taught during this unit, along with what makes an award-winning publication.

Essential Questions: What components make up a good yearbook? What are essential yearbook terms to know to produce a good yearbook? How will students advertise sales of the publication throughout the year? How will students utilize effective and ethical sales management?

Enduring Understanding: Ethical sales management/distribution is a critical component of yearbook publication.
