Content Area: Reading
Course(s): Reading 5
Time Period: June
Length: 3 weeks
Status: Published

Unit/Module Overview

In Module 11: In this module, students are learning about nonfiction texts and how they help us understand real-life topics. The class explores different types of nonfiction, like biographies, articles, and informational books. They practice identifying key features such as headings, captions, and bold words, which help organize important information. Students also learn how to find the main idea and supporting details in a paragraph. Through group discussions, reading activities, and fun research projects, they begin to see how nonfiction helps them learn about the world around them in a clear and factual way.

Essential Question:

- Week 1: What are the characteristics of informational text?
- Week 2: What are the characteristics of narrative nonfiction?
- Week 3: What are the characteristics of persuasive text?
